Eyce has taken classic smoking style and elevated it with an ultra-functional design to form the Beaker. Standing at 12 inches tall, the Beaker delivers traditional water pipe filtration in a contemporary form.

Crafted from virtually indestructible silicone and borosilicate glass, the Beaker is extremely durable and portable, making it a standout compared to its all-glass counterparts. The platinum-cured silicone ensures high-heat resistance while also providing flexibility and a comfortable grip.

A heavy-duty glass bowl securely fits in the universal 14 mm female downstem, but is easily removable and simple to clean. The lid doubles as a pad for working with your material while a magnetic ring, secured around the downstem, keeps anything metal, such as a lighter or stir tool, easily accessible. Built with covert compartments, your stash and material tool will be discreetly hidden for on-the-go use.
